The Real Full Monty 2023: Line-up revealed

Deck the halls and get ready for a festive ball like no other as The Real Full Monty returns to ITV1 and ITVM this Christmas for a sparkling, stripping spectacular.

There will be jingle bells and baubles galore as presenting duo Ashley Banjo and Coleen Nolan are back to take a new troupe of brave celebrities by the hand and put them through their paces, as they prepare to take to the stage for an exciting, glittering, festive dance extravaganza which will see them bare all to raise awareness of life-saving cancer checks.

The class of 2023 hitting the dance floor this year will be TV presenter Julia Bradbury, actress Sherrie Hewson, TV personality Gemma Collins, Dancing on Ice pro skater Vanessa Bauer, Corrie and Death in Paradise's Victoria Ekanoye, former royal butler Paul Burrell, footballer and TV personality Ashley Cain, ex England rugby international Ben Cohen, actor Nick Collier - better known as Ella Vaday, from RuPauls Drag Race and TOWIE star Pete Wicks.

As well as following the celebs as they overcome their fears and insecurities about performing and baring all, the show will reveal the deeply personal and significant reasons why each person has decided to take part in raising awareness of cancers in intimate areas of the body and the crucial importance of early self-checks to help save lives.

The Real Full Monty is commissioned for ITV1 and ITVX by Kate Teckman, Head of Development & Commissioning Editor Factual Entertainment and Sue Murphy, Head of Factual Entertainment ITV. For Spun Gold Television, the Executive Producers are Glenn Coomber and Nick Bullen.

Produced by Spun Gold for ITV1 and ITVX.
