ITV's Friday schedule changes following the death of HRH Prince Philip

ITV's schedule is changing following the announcement of the death of HRH Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh.

ITV News will broadcast continuous coverage throughout the afternoon, celebrating Prince Philip's life, his unique contribution to British history, and looking back at his decades of service to the Queen and the country.

At 17.00 ITV will air a specially commissioned film, Prince Philip: Duke of Edinburgh. Using personal testimony, together with rich archive content, James Mates narrates a compelling and engaging account of the fascinating life and times of Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh.

This will be followed at 18.00 by ITV's regional and national news which will continue to cover reaction and impact of the death from across the country.

At 19.00 ITV will broadcast Prince Philip, Fondly Remembered, a live programme celebrating the life and legacy of Prince Philip. Julie Etchingam and Phillip Schofield will talk to those who knew him best and understood him most, about his personality and his passions.

At 21.00 ITV will air a documentary special, Prince Philip: A Royal Life. ITV News Royal Editor Chris Ship has visited key locations around the world to tell the story of the extraordinary life of the Duke of Edinburgh.

An extended News at Ten will air at 22.00.

[end]

Notes to Editors:

This afternoon's ITV Racing has moved to ITV4.

There will be no commercial breaks in ITV's main channel coverage today.
