ITV2's Ready To Mingle - promo first look

Ready To Mingle, this September, ITV2

Hosted by comedian Katherine Ryan, the series will follow a single girl in the search for her perfect partner, as twelve male suitors compete for her affections and the chance to win a big money prize.

However, in a mischievous twist, not all the boys are single with a number of them being guided by their partners in pursuit of the prize. Taking up residence in a luxurious house, the single girl will get to know all the boys through activities, games and dates, eliminating each boy one-by-one until her 'dream man' remains. Which boy will be left standing? Can she suss out who is the real deal? They may not all be single, but they're all Ready to Mingle.
