The National Television Awards are back! 2022

Britain's most popular TV awards are to broadcast live on Thursday 15 September 2022 from a brand new venue: London's OVO Arena, Wembley.

In charge of events will be Joel Dommett, who returns as host following a barnstorming inaugural year last September. Speaking today, the comedian said:

"I'm so happy to have been asked back. There's already been some terrific TV this year, so I can't wait to see which shows the viewers pick as their winners. Plus, I've always wanted to shout the immortal words 'Hello, Wembley!'..."

The NTAs are unique in being the only UK TV awards ceremony where all the winners are chosen exclusively by the public via a huge nationwide poll.

Celebrating everything from beloved primetime shows on scheduled TV to stand out hits on streaming services, these truly are the people's awards where viewers' opinion counts and their favourites take home the prizes.

And with exciting new categories, exclusive live performances and surprise VIP guests in store for 2022, the star-filled night of the live results is sure to be one to remember.

Tickets are on pre-sale now at nationaltvawards.com for ClubNTA and on general release from Friday.

Fans can join ClubNTA at nationaltvawards.com/join
